

Writing

The theme of language is really important these days. People often travel abroad and meet foreigners. It's necessary to understand each other for further communication. Additional language gives you more job and social opportunities. And for personal experience you could study new language to be able to enjoy other cultures.

In my opinion, studying languages is essential for all people. The first reason is that we all can encounter foreigners on the Internet. For understanding each other we can use online translator, but it will take ~~to~~ some time making other person wait for you while you translating every word. It's just not polite. The second reason is that we are not always have our phone with us. What if we encounter unknown word on a building in the other country or the person on the street will ask for help in different language, but we can't understand it? There will be no time for searching online, but knowing the language will allow you to think quickly.

For me studying language is a hobby. In the century of technologies and science everyone owns mobile phone. An international app Duolingo provides free online courses in lots of different languages. One lesson takes only few minutes and gives you new words and practice. I'm using this app for several years and ~~to~~ study my third language. It's very interesting and exciting!

I've been using

In conclusion I want to recommend to all people ^{to} study new languages.
