I will give some comments about Mahatma Gandhi's quotation. It goes like: "Be the change that you wish to see in the world."

Art
I think, that author meant that you should do, not say. And I'm 100% agree with his opinion. It makes no sense if you say, that world is polluted, it only makes sense if you do something for the planet Earth not to be polluted. It is basic: less said, more done.

Art
If you want to change the world or people, you must try your best and do all what you can. I want to bring back rock and metal music, because I think that modern trap and pop music is awful. And I understand, that make heavy metal great again is nearly impossible, but I will try to do it. I play in a band and we are planning to record our debut album.

Art
If you want to change the world - do it! Do all you can, you can do it! Just have faith in yourself. You only live once, so just hit this life with your both hands and legs.
