Hello, I would like to say my opinion about that quotation.

I agree with that statement, because you can do all possible that you want to see in our world. Your life in your own hands, every one in the world can help or try to make our life better. Gr.

Everyone in the world can help each other for similar purposes. You can change your own life and the world. Try to think what can you do for the world and people. Choose how to help our world and do all what you can. Gr. You can help to people with "diseases, or look after animals, also there are a lot of variants to help the environment. You can become a scientist and help by your brain.

My classmates want to help people and they like medicine. I believe they all will become good doctors and scientists and help the world. What about me, I want to become an artist and make the world more happy with my drawings. Gr.

In a conclusion I want to say that your life in your hands, try to make the world better by your own actions. Good luck and change the world.
